REGULAR-SEASON MEETINGS:

vs.

The Cardinals went 0-1-1 against the Auggies this season, battling to a 1-1 tie at the SMU Ice Arena on Feb. 18, 2005, then falling to the Auggies 3-1 in Minneapolis, Minn., the following night.

• FEB. 18, 2005: The Auggies dominated play in the teams' first meeting, outshooting the Cardinals 30-11. In fact, the Auggies were so dominant, that the Cardinals went for nearly two entire periods with just two shots on goal. One of SMU's 11 shots, however — a wrist shot by Rebecca Jelenc that accounted for the Cardinals' lone shot of the second period — found the back of the net as the Cardinals hung on for the 1-1 tie. The Cardinals managed three shots in the first period — the last with 7:40 left in the period — and couldn't muster another shot until Jelenc scored from the blue line at 14:36 of the second period. Despite the lack of offensive firepower, SMU clung to that 1-0 advantage heading into the third period. Twenty-two seconds into the final period, however, the Auggies got the equalizer as Stacy Anderson netted her team-leading 16th goal of the season, banging a rebound past SMU goalie Nikki Jung

• FEB. 19, 2005: The Auggies once again held SMU to just one goal — but this time scored three of its own — as the Auggies cruised to the 3-1 win. Jocelyn Cookson scored a pair of goals for the Auggies — the first 13 minutes into the first period and the second with 3:19 remaining in regulation to seal the win — while Stacy Anderson added her team-leading 17th midway through the second to give Augsburg a 2-0 lead. Jenny Hocum cut the lead to 2-1 with her third goal of the season three minutes after Anderson's goal, but that was all the offense the Cardinals would muster. Nikki Jung did her part for SMU, stopping 35 shots — including 18 in the second period — while Augsburg goalie Amanda Bockmann stopped 21 for the Auggies.

1999-00 season), home teams have produced a 12-3-2 record (the MIAC held tournaments at neutral sites in the 2001-02 and 2002-03 seasons). ... Augsburg forward Lauren Chezick became the sixth player in MIAC women's hockey history to earn four all-conference first-team honors when she was named to the All-MIAC squad on Tuesday. Chezick holds Augsburg's career records for total scoring (137) and assists (82), while standing second in all-time goals (55). This season, Chezick stands third on the team in scoring (eight goals, 16 assists, 24 points). ... The other four-time All-MIAC honorees: Maureen Hayes, Saint Mary's (1999-2002); Sarah (Garrison) Moe, Gustavus/Augsburg (1999-2002); Katy Rollwagen, St. Benedict (1999-2002); Missy Westergren, Saint Mary's (1999-2002); and Tomery Stolz, St. Thomas (2001-04). ... Forward Stacy Anderson is currently ranked 15th nationally among NCAA Division III players in total scoring (36 points, 1.44 per game), 18th in goals (18 goals, 0.72 per game), 19th in assists (18, 0.72 per game) and sixth in power-play goals (six). Her 36 points are the sixth-most in a single season in school history (Chezick's 57 in 2002-03 is the record). ... Anderson has scored a goal or assist in 18 of Augsburg's 25 games this season; Augsburg is 12-3-3 in games in which she has scored at least one point. ... In just two seasons at Augsburg, Anderson already has 70 career points (34 goals, 36 assists), putting her fifth in school history in total scoring and at a pace to break several career records. Her 34 goals are already the fifth-most in school history (Angie Rieger holds the record with 68 goals from 1998-2001), as are her 36 career assists, and her 10 career power-play goals are fourth-most in school history (Annie Annunziato holds the record with 15 from 2003-04). ... Melynda Kleewein is currently is ranked 11th nationally in assists with 21 (0.84 per game). In her career, Kleewein currently ranks fourth in school history in total scoring (77 points) and has the second-most assists in school history (66; Chezick's 82 is the record), both also the most for any defender in school history. Her 20 assists this season are the fifth-most in a single-season in school history. ... Jocelyn Cookson is currently ranked 29th nationally in total scoring (28 points, 1.22 per game), 15th in goals (18, 0.78 per game) and 18th in power-play goals (five). ... Cookson has scored a goal or assist in 15 of her 23 games played this season; Augsburg is 11-2-2 in games in which she has scored at least one point. ... Goalie Amanda Bockmann has had an outstanding freshman season, currently standing with a 2.51 goals-against-average, .903 save percentage and 7-6-2 record. She was the lone goalie named to the MIAC's All-Rookie Team. In league play, her 2.33 GAA is fifth-best and her .901 save percentage is seventh-best. ... It has been a season of streaks for Augsburg. The Auggies opened the season with eight straight home games (a record number of home games to start the season) and went 4-2-2. Augsburg has had winning streaks of four, two, four and three games interspersed with losing skids of three, one, and five games. Augsburg enters tonight's game on a four-game unbeaten streak, including winning its last three in a row.
